

Buy Satisfaction With Your Furnace

There is more to a hot air heating plant than just so much cast iron and tin pipe and registers.

Much depends on the construction of the furnace—the layout of the job and the actual work of installation.

Riverside furnaces are made of brand new cast iron throughout and everyone of them is fitted tight, making an economical and long lasting apparatus.

Our workmen are all experts at their special lines.

The combination is hard to equal.

Buying from us—the manufacturers—is insurance against future regrets.

"Homes of Character" No. 197

A Seven-Room Bungalow—By John Henry Newson

In this arrangement of exterior and plan it is possible to build this seven-room bungalow at a very low cost, by virtue of the short studding that is required in the construction of the walls and by the minimum roof area made possible by giving the roof a low pitch; the very features that bring about the effect of a bungalow.

The living quarters, that is to say, the kitchen, dining room and living room, occupy the front part on the plan and the sleeping quarters are entered through a hall off the rear of the living room, off of which four bedrooms are grouped. A stairway also ascends from this hall to storage space under the roof. The basement occupies a part of the area of the house and is reached from a stairway off of the kitchen. The cost of this house should not exceed $3,500, as it would be built in a locality suitable for such a design.

No. 197—Size 30x48 feet. Price of plans $15. Price of specifications $2.50.

By special arrangement Mr. Newson answers without charge all inquiries of Argus readers concerning these Homes of Character. Just address your letter—being careful to give number of home each time—to John Henry Newson, "Homes of Character Dept." The Argus.
